SPONSORSHIP

OPPORTUNITIES | 2022

WHY SPONSOR UEDA?

Higher education institutions, private sector businesses, public sector agencies, and economic development organizations are at the nexus of modern economic growth. Never in history have partnerships between these four sectors been more important in creating sustained economic opportunities in our communities.

Established in 1976, the University Economic Development Association (UEDA) is North America's professional association that unites these sectors. UEDA's members work to expand economic opportunity and prosperity in our communities and regions by leveraging talent development; research and technology development; and community-building and place-making strategies.

VALUE OF SPONSORSHIP

Organizations and companies who choose to sponsor UEDA do so because:

- They recognize higher education's role in modern economic development and are committed to demonstrating support to their community or marketplace.
- They see a business benefit to aligning with a national association targeted at driving economic development at the regional level.
- They recognize the importance of having a voice in economic development for higher education.
- They want to market to UEDA's core audience of c-level higher education and industry professionals.
- They strive to increase visibility and awareness for their vision, mission, and initiatives with a national audience.
- They aspire to contribute a tax-deductible donation to a national, not-for-profit.

WHO ARE OUR MEMBERS?

UEDA serves more than 1,000 professionals through our international membership of about 100 (and growing!) institutions and organizations. Our core membership comprises college and university professionals focused on economic development, entrepreneurship, innovation, talent development, and community engagement. Those we serve increasingly include higher education partners in private industry, entrepreneurship, local government, economic development organizations, federal agencies, workforce development, manufacturing, and financial institutions. These organizations and institutions are driving modern economic engagement and providing leadership to their regions and communities every day. In partnership with regional stakeholders, they are working to achieve shared economic and community impact goals. Each stakeholder group brings its own perspective and ideas to UEDA, and the resulting diversity of ideas is vital to our continued success.

UEDA NETWORKS

About the Talent Network

The Talent Network focuses on topics surrounding regional talent needs and development. With school, community, and corporate partners, colleges and universities participate in cradle-to-grave talent development. Talent development encompasses the delivery of lifelong learning at multiple levels and to multiple audiences: the effective education of children in the pre-K-12 pipeline; undergraduate education; specialized graduate and post-doctoral training; executive degree programs (e.g., accelerated MBAs for mid-career professionals); continuing education for adults throughout life; industry training; and beyond.

About the Innovation Network

The Innovation Network advances conversations around innovation and knowledge transfer. Innovation consists of intellectual, creative, and business processes—from ideation to implementation—that lead to application of new knowledge to solve problems of identifiable markets or user groups, or to otherwise enhance society. Innovation requires an intellectual orientation that is collaborative, transdisciplinary, problem-solving oriented, and risk-tolerant. Innovation and creativity are not limited to technology development and business formation. They lead to societal, economic, technological, policy, artistic, or cultural outcomes. In a way, we are, today, reinventing new forms, based on the original form of university economic development—Cooperative Extension—in place since the late 19th century.

About the Place Network

The Place Network engages in collaboration around developing regions where talent and innovation can grow and thrive. Competitive, successful communities and regions are attentive to the health, education, environment, housing, safety, and entertainment needs of community members. Leadership cultivates networks and connections that build community and competencies. Citizens practice good government and the community works to assure equity of opportunity and social justice.
